Major General Charles A. Willoughby

Dear General Willoughby:

I appreciate your letter of 5 January and its interesting enclosures, which I have sent to some of my people for study. Also many thanks for the interesting books which arrived separately.

I understand the logic of the Committee in wishing to call before it a person of such outstanding intelligence service as yourself. Your international stature in this field is well known, and I am sure they feel they would benefit by information which you have. I want you to know that I certainly would welcome it if the Committee members could have the benefit of your views on the complicated subjects before them.

Regarding your idea of a trip to a certain country for the purpose of writing a book, I find this matter interesting and I shall be in touch with you further about it.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
Director
